

My Ash Tree Poem

When the sky is a fright the ash tree will always be the light in the dark night.

The fairies are high in the sky dancing through the night.
Three schools connected that will never be ended.

By Alison Connolly

