Public Consultation Event

Tuesday, 19th February, 2019

6.30 - 9pm: Claregalway Hotel, Claregalway

The Department of Culture, Heritage and the Gaeltacht is developing a new heritage policy called 'Heritage Ireland 2030', and it is inviting members of the public to give their views on how our heritage might be managed, valued and protected over the next decade.

To help collect as many views as possible, the Heritage Council is organising a public consultation meeting.

The meeting is aimed at people - of all ages - with an interest in heritage. The more opinions and views we can collect, the richer our national policy on heritage will be. Register your interest via HI2030@heritagecouncil.ie.
